The Lesson: Daniel 7:1–3,15–18

The Holy Bible; NRSV, p. 813

Commentary: Daniel was exiled to Babylon, caught up in the first of three waves of deportations from Judah. He was probably only a teeneager when he arrived in Babylon, but eventually he attained an official position within the government. Although his homeland had been overrun by foreign powers, Daniel gained the respect of his pagan masters due to his unwavering trust in the sovereignty of Israel's God. This passage describes Daniel's dream of the downfall of world empires. (Details of the dream are recorded in 7:4–14.) The vision baffled and alarmed Daniel, but an angel gave him the interpretation. Kings and kingdoms will rise and fall, but ultimately, God's people will reign with Him forever.

In the first year of King Belshazzar of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head as he lay in bed. Then he wrote down the dream: I, Daniel, saw in my vision by night the four winds of heaven stirring up the great sea, and four great beasts came up out of the sea, different from one another. As for me, Daniel, my spirit was troubled within me, and the visions of my head terrified me. I approached one of the attendants to ask him the truth concerning all this. So he said that he would disclose to me the interpretation of the matter: "As for these four great beasts, four kings shall arise out of the earth. But the holy ones of the Most High shall receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom for ever—for ever and ever."

Glory be to thee, O Lord.

Jesus looked up at his disciples and said: “Blessed are you who are poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. Blessed are you who are hungry now, for you will be filled. Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh. Blessed are you when people hate you, and when they exclude you, revile you, and defame you on account of the Son of Man. Rejoice in that day and leap for joy, for surely your reward is great in heaven; for that is what their ancestors did to the prophets. But woe to you who are rich, for you have received your consolation. Woe to you who are full now, for you will be hungry. Woe to you who are laughing now, for you will mourn and weep. Woe to you when all speak well of you, for that is what their ancestors did to the false prophets. But I say to you that listen, Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who abuse you. If anyone strikes you on the cheek, offer the other also; and from anyone who takes away your coat do not withhold even your shirt. Give to everyone who begs from you; and if anyone takes away your goods, do not ask for them again. Do to others as you would have them do to you.”
